Unlock Global Opportunities with the International MBA Program

Are you ready to take your career to new heights and expand your horizons on a global scale? The STEM-designated International Master of Business Administration (IMBA) program at the University of North Carolina Wilmington is designed for aspiring business leaders with a global perspective. This program offers a unique blend of academic rigor, hands-on learning opportunities, and cross-cultural experiences to prepare students for success in today's interconnected world.

WHY CHOOSE THE IMBA PROGRAM AT UNCW?

UNCW's IMBA program stands out for its comprehensive curriculum, renowned faculty, and vibrant learning community. With a focus on international business practices, cross-cultural communication, and global strategy, students gain the skills and knowledge needed to thrive in diverse business environments. Students have the option of specializing in International Finance and Investments, International Supply Chain and Logistics Management, Sustainable Risk Management, or International Marketing.

GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE, LOCAL IMPACT

The IMBA program at UNCW goes beyond traditional business education by emphasizing the interconnectedness of economies, cultures, and markets. Through immersive experiences such as cross-cultural opportunities, study abroad opportunities, and multinational company site visits, students gain firsthand exposure to global business practices while making a positive impact in local communities around the world.

STEM DESIGNATED

As a STEM designated program, International student graduates of the IMBA program can complement their academic studies with practical work experience through Optional Practical Training (OPT). OPT allows graduates to gain valuable professional experience in your field of study while remaining in the United States. With the IMBA program's STEM-designation, graduates are eligible to apply for up to three years of post-graduation work authorization.
